Dear Representative Doe:

I am a practicing rheumatologist in City, State, where I treat over Number patients a week who suffer from chronic conditions like rheumatoid arthritis, lupus and other rheumatic and musculoskeletal diseases. I invite you to experience first hand the daily routines within a rheumatology office during your next in district work period by visiting my practice.

This opportunity would provide a greater perspective on the unique issues facing rheumatology patients. You would learn about the severity of rheumatic conditions, the importance research plays in the discovery of innovative treatments and the development of life-changing drugs which allow patients to lead more productive lives. Not only am I a constituent, but I treat thousands of patients in your district.

I look forward to your reply and to working with you to advance public policies that will benefit the 88 million Americans who suffer from arthritis, rheumatic and musculoskeletal conditions.

Sincerely,

FName LName, MD
