

Coming Soon— NEW! Membership Options

We are pleased to announce the upcoming launch of reimagined ACR and ARP membership options, designed for a more streamlined and easier-to-navigate experience. Once launched, you will be able to choose from individual membership and all-new Small Team membership options. Plus, the new Find My Fit tool will guide you and your team through the process of selecting a membership option that best suits you. See a sneak peek of the new membership options below and stay tuned for complete information, coming in 2023.

Find My Fit: Individual Membership

The ACR always looks for new ways to support your membership experience, as well as elevate the membership offerings we provide. In finding the right fit for you, we've reimagined the value of your membership experience, including:

- A new ACR website with streamlined navigation, targeted content, and modern visual engagements aligned with continuing initiatives to support our diverse membership
- Enhanced learning experiences and compelling, relevant topics throughout the recently launched ACR Education Center
- All-new, personalized member center and communications to ensure you're getting information that's most relevant to you
- Seamless access to your member profile and benefits

Find My Fit: Small Team Membership

Small, but mighty rheumatology teams can now enjoy the benefits of ACR/ARP membership at a reduced rate. Equip your team with the most trusted research, resources, and education in the field of rheumatology. The new Small Team Membership is designed to ensure you have support for your thriving practice and training for the team to provide exceptional patient care.

Teams of 4–15 members can now be part of the ACR/ARP community with a Small Team Membership that includes:

- Cost savings of up to 40%
- One consolidated invoice
- Transferrable membership options
- All Individual ACR/ARP member benefits for each team member, plus free access to exclusive courses
- Free credit hours toward license renewals
