2017 ACR/ARHP Annual Meeting Industry-Supported Symposia

Non-CME Symposia
The non-CME Programs are wholly sponsored and supported by the commercial entities listed. By holding the Programs, the commercial entities have represented that the Programs have been developed and will be implemented in accordance with the requirements of the FDA and applicable standards of the PhRMA Code on Interactions with Healthcare Professionals. The commercial entities are to observe all guidelines established by federal and state regulatory agencies regarding non-CME educational or promotional presentations throughout the duration of the Program. The content and views expressed during the Program are those of the commercial entities and presenters. The ACR by making this venue available does not guarantee, warrant or endorse the content of the Program nor the products discussed and reviewed during the Program.

CME-Accredited Symposia
For CME-accredited symposia, the sponsoring organization is responsible for planning and providing CME credit.
